

A comet moves around the sun in the path shown below. The comet is an unbounded particle, and is free to continue on an infinite distance away from the sun. At the point indicated, derive an expression for the comet's minimum velocity.

