

Assume the position

A disk ($I = \frac{1}{2} MR^2$) is at rest on a flat surface. What is the minimum coefficient of static friction required to keep the disk from slipping when a force is applied to its axle?

